COLLEGE GIRLS TEAM OFF TO CENTRAL COLLEGE GAME

Which Will Be Played at Fayette Tomorrow Night—Nine Girls to Go on the Trip.

Nine members of the State Teachers College girls' basketball team left this morning with Miss MacLeod, the coach, for Fayette, where they will play the Central College sextet tomorrow night. The girls who made the trip were: Misses Mabel and Evelyn Raines, Garten, Miller, McNeal, Pugh, Kennedy, Hardwick and Eaton.

The team will go to Moberly today and spend the night there. They will go on to Fayette tomorrow and will start the return trip to Maryville Sunday morning, arriving home on the 7:40 o'clock Wabash train.

Miss MacLeod expects a hard game at Fayette as the Central team has joined hands with the Howard-Payne girls and the two teams are now one. It will be remembered that last year it was the Howard-Payne sextet that came near upsetting the championship hopes of the Maryville girls.

The line-up that will start the game tomorrow night will likely be M. Raines and Garten at forward; McNeal at jumping center; Captain Miller at running center and Pugh and Kennedy at guard.

This will be only a one-game trip. A game with Central Wesleyan and with Hardin College was called for but both schools refused to meet the Maryville girls.

FIRE PROTECTION HERE DEFICIENT

INSPECTION BUREAU MAKES SEVERAL RECOMMENDATIONS

LACK OF RESERVE PUMPS

At the Source; Also Failure to Increase Pressure for Fires—Other Things Mentioned

The fire protection in Maryville is deficient for the present 4½ (N. B. S. 8) classification according to a report of the Missouri Inspection Bureau. An engineer of the bureau inspected the water plant, fire organization, fire prevention provisions and general features of fire fighting facilities on December 27, 1922.

The fire protection for this classification is deficient due primarily to the lack of serviceable reserve pumps at the source; also lack of suitable arrangements for proper operation of fire service pumps to increase pressure for fires. The report says: "The pumps, water pressure for fires, the size of fire department force, and fire alarm are poor for the class. The hydrant distribution and fire station are fair for the class. The source of water supply, pump houses, filters, power, water, storage, mains and fire flow are good for the class.

The general recommendations to make fire protection better in Maryville follow:

General Recommendations.

Water Supply.—Maintain the storage reservoir at source filled at all times as reserve and emergency supply.

Pumps—(a) Replace the unserviceable steam pumps at source with two modern pumps to duplicate the service of the present electric pumps. New pumps may be electric driven but combustion engines, preferable for immediate starting, or steam power would provide service on interruption of electric power. (b) Arrange both 600-gal. fire pumps separately controlled direct from power house and equipped with relief valve set at 85 to 90 lbs. pressure discharging back into basin. The electric motors should be replaced with ones of slip-ring type. (c) On all alarms of fire shut the elevated tank by electric control from power house after starting at least one fire pump.

Power—(a) Transmit all alarms of fire direct to power house and pump station for immediate operation of pumps. (b) Electric wiring should be overhauled to conform to the National Electrical Code and pump motors protected by circuit breakers without fuses.

Pump House—(a) House double hydrant at the pump house with 100 feet of 2½ in. fire hose and nozzle attached and provide chemical extinguishers suitable for electrical fires at both pump houses.

Underground Pipe System—(a) Future extensions to system supplying fire hydrants should not be smaller than 6 inch mains. (b) Eliminate dead-end mains where practicable. Install the following mains of their effective equivalent:

Size (c) 8 inch, from fire pump house to Square.

Size (d) 8 inch, along Market street from Fourth to Fifth.

Size (e) 8 inch along Fifth street from Buchanan to Market.

Size (f) 8 inch, along Buchanan from Second to Fourth.

Size (g) 8 inch along Mulberry from Ninth street to Eleventh.

Size (h) 6 inch along Saunders street from First to Seventh.

Size (i) 6 inch, along Laura street from First to Third.

Size (j) 6 inch along Charles street from First to Edward.

Size (k) 6 inch along Vine street from First to Edward.

CAUGHT MAKING SOME HOME BREW

OFFICERS FOUND STILL IN ACTUAL OPERATION

RUN BY WM. M'MICHAEL

McMichael, the Still and the Liquor Brought to Maryville—McMichael in Court Before

William McMichael, living northeast of Elmo, was arrested this afternon while he was actually making some home brew. The arrest was made by Sheriff Steve A. Roach and Deputy Sheriff L. E. Atherton.

The officers with a search warrant went to the McMichael farm about non today. When they went to the house McMichael was in a room adjoining the kitchen of his house and a big kettle with the home brew was boiling on a stove.

McMichael, the still, and two gallons of the home brew were brought to Maryville this afternoon by the authorities. Some five gallons of the stuff were poured out by the officers as well as over ten gallons of mash were thrown away.

Complaints have been made for some litle time about a still on the McMichael place but the officers were always unable to locate it. Last August, a still was found by Sheriff Roach on the farm of O. Tudder, which adjoins the McMichael place. At that time it was thought the still belonged to McMichael but no evidence could be secured to confirm this belief.

McMichael was up in circuit court a year ago last summer for possession of intoxicating liquor. He hade a plea of guilty and was fined $150. McMichael is about 53 years old.

FISTIC FROLIC FURNISHED FUN

AT BATTERY C ARMORY LAST NIGHT

WRESTLING MATCH GOOD

Brawny Battlers Bombard Blows Belligerantly Before Big Bunch

The American Legion athletic carnival which was staged last night at the Battery C armory, was a fistic success. Managers Mutz and Lewis had two bouts billed, one in wrestling and the other a battle royal with the padded mitts.

In the first Sam England and "Bosco" Barclay, State Teachers College grapplers, furnished the fans with a very creditable exhibition of amateur wrestling. The match was scheduled for two falls with a ten minute time limit. The first ten minutes went by and found the men at a draw.

In the second meeting England started out on a serious of body scissors which proved disastrous to Barclay who finally succumbed to about the fifth of these holds.

He didn't give up, but the match was called too soon after he had partaken of his supper and Sam's legs proved to much for a full stomach and Barcley became sick.

But for this the match would likely have resulted in a draw.

It was the battle royal that caused the merriment of the evening. Messers Smith, Potts, Fields and Dunn, gentlemen of color, were the participants. It was to be a fight to a finish.

Referee Culver called the men into the ring, made them shake hands and let them go. Oh you fun! Potts and "Shike" immediately started for each other, and Fields and Gunn got together in a half-hearted manner. The interest was all centered on Potts and Smith. Each gave a clever exhibition of staying away from the other and Shike was noticable for his basketball pivots.

After a while they mixed and Potts let loose with a left to the body. Shike went sailing through space and the ropes were all that saved him. Then he retaliated and Potts groveled on the floor.

At the end of the second round both men were well winded and Fields and Gunn were all petered out from running away from each other.

When the bell rang for the beginning of the third session, neither man rose from his cornor. Shike was winded and Potts complained verbosely of a leg that was "a-killin ihm."

Thats about all of it. Potts never would come back. He laid in his corner, looked up at Referee Culver and moaned," Honest, Perry, I'm about' daid'. My leg won't hold my body up. I completely lost my control," and try as they might the fans could not get the battler back into the ring.

The came the final feature of the card. A box of flour was brought into the ring and some coins were pitched in it. Then the three negroes, with their hands tied behind them, rooted into the flour for the change. Their faces immediately changed color and soon all three were spitting dough.

A large number of ex-service men were at the affair and all were pleased with the bill.

An announcement was made that on Tuesday night February 20 the Bradley, Hunterson, Oglesby Post, No. 268, American Legion will give a feed and entertainment for the ladies auxiliary. All members from Maryville and the county round were invited.

A marriage license was issued this afternoon to Victor Hugo Coons and Thelma Blondena Buckridge, both of Conception Junction.

MAYOR COMMENTS ON FIRE REPORT

SOME RIGHT AND SOME ABSOLUTELY WRONG, HE SAYS.

EXPLAINS WATER RATES

Adequate Reserve Pumps and Chlorine Purification System Imperative Need, He Declares.

Mayor F. P. Robinson in discussing the report of the Inspection Bureau this mornnig said that, "some of the requirements of the bureau are unreasonable, and some of their data on the situation here is absolutely incorrect." But the mayor added that they were right in their statement that the deficiencies are due primarily to the lack of serviceable reserve pumps at the source.

"Water is an absolute necessity to the city for sanitary and fire protective purposes," said Mr. Robinson, "and it is a serious mistake to be dependent entirely upon one source of electrical equipment from the central electrical plant. The plant could burn easily and if such would happen, it would throw the water supply upon a steam pumping equipment entirely inadequate. The steam equipment was used for four months last winter and is now used at intervals to keep it in shape for emergency."

The present pumping power comes from the Maryville Electric Light & Power Co.

Mr. Robinson in speaking of the present water rates, said that they were raised to take care of this situation.

"We are looking forward to two improvements," said Mr. Robinson. "As soon as the money can be obtained, the first being the installation of proper and adequate reserve pumps, and to install a new liquid chlorine purification system. We now have figures and estimates on the new pumping equipment, and we are now attempting to devise plans to provide funds for the installation."

In speaking of other phases of the Bureau report, Mr. Robinson declared that the fire plugs were adequate and were inspected four times a year. He also stated the pressure here was adequate and with new pumps there would be a plenty. The Mayor also denied that there was inadequate fire protection at river plant, saying that they had ample hose, 300 feet, there and that the chemical protection was in good shape.

118 MINERS BURIED IN GAS EXPLOSION

BUT HOPE HELD FOR DAWSON, N. M., MINERS.

TWO ARE FOUND ALIVE

Rescue Workers Go More Than Mile Underground to Scene of Disaster.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Conscious and in a dazed condition, two miners were rescued from mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge Co., after the terrific explosion that trapped 118 men. The rescued men mumbled in incoherent and almost inaudible words that more of their companions were still alive.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Hopes that some of the 118 men, entombed in the Phelps-Dodge coal mine No. 1 following an explosion yesterday afternoon, can be rescued alive, was expressed shortly before noon today when word came that two men were found alive by the rescue workers. Four addition? al miners are reported to be alive, and were being brought out, it was said.

Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9—At 7 o'clock this morning it was announced by officials of the company that 118 men remain entombed in the mine. Four bodies had been recovered at that hour. Company officials declare that the fire bosses had noticed no unusual conditions in the mines the night before the explosion. The ventilation had not been damaged.

Considerable debris had been encounted by rescue workers as they worked early this morning. They had reached a spot almost a mile underground, but were some distance from the scene of the explosion. Workers worked all night carrying off debris, but at an early hour had been unable to reach the actual working place where the miners were.

Hundreds of women and children, of the entombed men, hovered in quietness about the mouth of the mine. Only the soft sobbing and weeping of the widows and orphans broke the quiet methodical work of the rescue works, who were fighting through the debris to the inner chambers of the mine, where more than a hundred men are entombed.

All the heavy concrete work at the mouth of the main entry was blown to ruin by the force of the explosion, indicating that the extent of the blast in the deeper workings was tremendous.

Mine No. 1 at Dawson is owned by the Phelps-Dodge corporation. Calls for help have been dispatched to the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain and Pacific Mining Company at Raton, N. M.

DANGER IN CREDIT TO FARMERS

Unlimited Financial Aid Would Ruin Them, S. R. McKelvie says

St. Louis, Feb. 9.—Un[illegible] would mean ruination for the farmers of the country, as "that is what they got in the war and it merely made them easy prey to "blue sky" salesmen," declared Samuel R. McKelvie, editor of a farm publication and ex-governor of Nebraska, in an address Wednesday night before the annual convention of the seventh district Advertising Clubs of the World in session here.

McKelvie asserted that the farmer represents the biggest single purchasing power in the United States, and urged his audience to "stop exploiting the farmer. Quit misrepresenting him. REPORTS SAY CLARA PHILLIPS IS IN PEN AT CHIHAUHAU, MEX.

Immigration Official is Quoted As Saying that "Hammer Murderess" Is Lodged There.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 9 (Bulletin).—Neither federal officers here nor Mexican officials at Jaurez, just across the river, place any credence that Mrs. Clara Phillips, escaped "hammer murderess" is being held in the penitentiary at Chihauhau, they declared this afternoon.

It was officially stated that no report confirming the confinement of Mrs. Phillips had been received, and there is a direct wire communication from Chihanhau to Jaurez, so they do not believe the report is true.

Houston, Tex., Feb. 9.—Reports that Mrs. Clara Phillips, Los Angeles "hammer murderess," who escaped from jail there, was in the Mexican penitentiary at Chihauhau, were discredited by federal and state officials, notwithstanding the attitude of Lee Manning, United States immigration inspection that the escaped woman was in the Mexican prison.

No official confirmation of the capture of the "nammer woman" has been received, but officials are investigating the report.

According to a statement attributed to Manning, she is in the penitentiary there awaiting deportation proceedings to the United States. Manning is reported as saying.

"As soon as the Alguin case is finished, I will return to Mexico and arrange for the deportation of Mrs. Phillips to the United States." He is quoted further as saying, "The woman went to Chihaubau after a journey over the border on a mule train. Authorities there had been warned to keep on the look-out for her coming and she was arrested shortly after she arrived. I have assurance that she will be detained until we arrive."

The great grand daughter was Flossie Fay Dalrymple, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dalrymple of Pickering, and the groom was Homer G. Davis of DeRitter, La. The ceremony was performed by Justice of the Peace W. L. Johnson.

The first marriage license recorded in this county was to Chancy Dalrymple and Lydia Heddy. They were married on June 2, 1845, by J. M. Lamar, who was justice of the peace of Atchison township. Mr. Lamar was the father of N. B. Lamar of Maryville. The recorder at that time was Amos Graham, being the first recorder of the county.

The license which was issued in pen and ink is contained in a small book in the recorder's office. It reads as follows:

"State of Missouri, County of Nodaway:

"Be it remembered that on the 11th day of May A. D. 1845, I, John M. Lamar, and acting Justice of the Peace in and for Atchison township, Nodaway County, Mo., did solemnize the rites of matrimony between Chancy Dalrymple and Lydia Heddy, and join them together in wedlock as husband and wife. Given under my hand this 2nd day of June, A. D. 1845. J. M. Lamar, Justice of the Peace."

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase! S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells!

The shame of a blemished face!

That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Blackheaded pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun,—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results, produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C's of medical science. Red-cells mean clear-pure rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism impurities, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1826, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. HE DID NOT HAVE NERVE TO HOLD HIS HEAD UP

(By C. L. Ficklin, Editor Dekalb County Herald, Maysville, Mo.)

The Sunday School lesson for February 11 is about prayer.

Two of the outstanding characters in the lesson are the Pharisee and the Publican.

That publican considered himself a hard case, all undone. He was ashamed of the botch he had made of his life. He felt like he was unworthy. He did not have the nerve to do so much as to hold up his head so he could look up to heaven.

And he cried out for mercy.

Maybe he was like Isaiah. Maybe he cried this way because he saw God and His holiness as well as his own unholiness.

There was a face-to-facedness about his prayer. You will recall that Isaiah said:

"Woe is me; for I am undone; because I am a man of unclean lips, and I dwell in the midst of a people of unclean lips: for mine eyes have seen the King, the Lord of Hosts."

This publican felt like Isaiah. It is right probable that he had not been anything like as good a man as Isaiah was. But he had one fine thing in common with Isaiah—he came to God empty of self, pride all gone, puff all out of him, strut all crushed out of him, humble and prostrate in the presence of the awful holiness of God. He had a fine attitude of heart.

And yonder stands that Pharisee to pray.

Isn't he a sight?

That fellow never had to go to the mountains for lung trouble, nor to any state tuberculosis sanitarium. He never needed to get into any thin light high air like they have on the top of Pike's Peak—air so thin that he would have to breathe so much of it for his needs that just the exercise of pulling in the thin air would fill out his chest.

His chest was already filled out.

I suspect maybe that mother of his when he was growing up had said something like this:

"I don't know what I will do about Isaac. As fast as I set the buttons on his coat he busts them off. About every other day he comes home with one or two or three buttons popped off. I am going either to have to get him a bigger coat or get stouter thread."

He was a great chest sweller. He had a great spread of rib.

He was a strutter. He strutted at school. He strutted on the street. He strutted out in society. He strutted at work. And worst of all he strutted in the presence of God—that was the worst strut of all.

Every strutter is a fake artist.

And he knows that's what he is.

But he thinks he can fool the people. The curious thing about this Pharisee fake artist was that he carried the fake into the presence of God, as if he thought maybe he could fool God too.

Pride and prayer.

The Pharisee tried to hook up pride and prayer together. They won't work together. No proud man ever prays with any reality of earnestness.

Pride chases the prayer out of a man's life.

Prayer chases the pride out of a man's life.

You had just as well speak about a cold hot day as to speak about a man puffed up with pride offering any real prayer.

Of course the Pharisee went through a certain form of prayer. But he did not pray.

The publican prayed.

I am not any authority on prayer. I do not wish to be considered such. But I have heard a good many prayers—and it is one of the hardest things in the world for lots of people to squeeze all the pride out of themselves before they pray.

Ernest Clough, one of our townsmen, asked me this question a littel while ago:

"What do you think of public prayer?"

I do not exactly know what he meant. But I leave an idea. I think he meant that there is such a temptation in public prayer for the man doing the praying to play to the galleries, and to frame his prayer so that he is really talking to the people instead of talking to God. And when he does that he has gone astray.

Two men were talking one day about one of Billy Sunday's prayers. Billy came out on the platform and said: "Good morning, God, how are you this morning?" And one of the men said this: "He wasn't talking to God then—he was talking to the people."

Public prayer is a good thing if the man who leads the prayer can keep self out of it and talk to God and not to the people.

Emptiness of self is one of the first requisites of availing prayer.

There was a preacher in our town one time. He made a speech on a certain occasion. Our paper wanted to publish his speech or a part of it. I asked him for the speech. I will never forget his reply, which was this in substance:

"I don't have and manuscript. And I really do not desire anything put in the paper. I don't want that. It is sweet enough to me just to go down to my bedside at night and say, 'Lord all the glory I want is just to do these things for you."

The man was empty of self.

I heard a prayer one time in a tent meeting back in the hill country of Kentucky, and I remember it to this day. I think the man had whiskers on his face about five days or a week old. His grammar was poor. His prayer had no introduction, and was not laid out according to form. But he talked from the heart, forgot himself and spoke to God. That prayer stayed with me—because the man was empty or self.

A prayer ought not only to be empty of pride and self.

It ought to be more than that.

It ought to be aggressively and heartfully earnest.

Some of us go through a form of prayer. It's not from the heart. Many of us pray prayers that we read out of books and memorize. We recite what some other fellow has written.

A real prayer is an outcry of thanks or yearning—a heart outcry of the one doing the praying. It is mockery to recite, repeat, memorize, stage a prayer that some other fellow wrote 215 years ago.

Do you really want what you pray for?

It looks like the biggest piece of sacrilege in the country for a praying man to ask God for something that he really does not want—and yet people pray for many, many things that they themselves do not really wish. They do such things as pray for—

More love— and then keep on hating a neighbor.

More purity of heart—and then go the next night to a leg show.

More simplicity of heart and life—and then wear $500 diamond rings, ride in gold trimmed limousines, eat late suppers, sleep late—and read the Delineator and McCall's and other journals and get the latest elaborate Paris fashions.

THE HIGHWAY SYSTEM TO STAND AS IT IS

Secretary of the Commission Says Hamburg Connection Through Atchison Co., is Favorable

(St. Joseph News-Press)

Jefferson City, Feb. 9—The house committee on roads yesterday reported adversely the bill which sought to make various changes in the state highway system. The effect of the report is to stand by the program of primary and secondary roads as designated by the state highway commission and to reject all contemplated departures. Many minor changes are to be made by the highway department, no legislative enactment being necessary. The secretary of the commission said today that it is the intention to make connections with Iowa roads through the northern tier of Missouri counties. The department is especially committed to the Hamburg connection through Atchison County.

The hearing was the first test as to the popularity of the system. Each of the 114 counties of the state was represented and only 28 counties asked that changes be made. Many of these proposed alterations are minor, and probably will be granted by the commission. Several changes have become necessary in order to make connections with newly built roads in adjoining states.

Atchison County wants a road to connect with a state pike of Iowa, ending at Hamburg, a short distance north of the Missouri-Iowa line. William Airy, a banker at Watson, addressed the committee in behalf of this change.

"The present state road extends directly north from Rock Port, twelve miles to the Iowa line, where there is nothing but a graveyard," said Mr. Airy.

"We want the road designated north west from Phelps City to Hamburg, Iowa, a distance of fifteen miles. This connection will have to be made eventually if we are to get federal aid, and, if the road is run from Phelps City instead of from Rock Port there will be a saving of three and one-half miles.

"Iowa has built to Hamburg for the purpose of making this connection with a Missouri road. The road we are asking for was designated as a state road by the former highway commission."

Nodaway County also wants connection with an Iowa road. The committee was asked to designate a highway leading west and north from Maryville and connecting with the Iowa system at Braddyville.

"We feel that we haven't got our share," explained Representative Job of Nodaway as he put in his bid for 25 miles more for that county. Senator LaFavor who lives at Parnell in the same county, backed Job up with the explanation that during the rush and scramble of parceling out the mileages when the Legislature designated the routes of the state system in 1921 "to accomodate other people I left my own road out," and so it went.

"BUBBLE" SALE STARTS OFF WELL TODAY

A Large Crowd Expected for Fourth Number of Oxford Club Lyceum Course

The reserved seat sale for the comedy play of the "Bubble" which will be shown at the Empire Theatre Monday night, started off well this morning. This is the fourth number of the Lyceum course sponsored this winter by the Oxford Class of the First M. E. Church. The other numbers have been held at the Church but stage facilities were necessary to put on the production. The following is a report on the play from the Pomona, (Calif.) Progress:

The wonderful characterization by J. Mey Bennett of "Gustav Mueller" of the delicatessen shop, who narrowly escapes losing his entire fortune in a escapes losing his entire fortune in get rich-quick scheme, and the excellent Bennett as "Amelia" the shopkeeper's wife, Miss Florence Joyce as "Rosie" his daughter, and Myron Z. Paulson, as "Dick", the reporter and unapproved suitor of Rosie, won popular approval for "The Bubble," the second Lyceum number this season, which was presented before a large crowd in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last night. Mr. Bennett played the part of the old German-Jew so realistically that many believed him to be of that nationality, but Mr. Bennett declares he is an Irishman, born in Ireland.
